

2015-2016 Bi-ANNUAL REPORT

Introduction

Albion College has a commitment to substance abuse prevention on its campus. Prevention, intervention, and enforcement activities are a priority of the College and the College maintains a low tolerance policy about substance use on campus. Albion College has increased intervention and prevention efforts over the past few years and plans to continuously improve these services. The College reviews its alcohol and drug policies and programs on a biennial basis to ensure they are effective and up-to-date. Below is our most recent review.

DFSCA Bi-Annual Review

Albion College, Albion, MI
2015-2016

The Drug Free Schools and Campuses regulations require institutions of higher education (IHEs) to review their Alcohol and Drug Education and Prevention Programs and policies every two years. The required review has two objectives:

- 1) To determine the effectiveness of, and to implement any needed changes to the Alcohol and Other Drug Program (AOD) program; and
- 2) To ensure that the disciplinary sanctions for violating standards of conduct are enforced consistently.

The following information is presented to the students, faculty, and staff of Albion College in order to inform all members of the College community of the policies and programs that exist for alcohol and other drug issues.

Program Description

The Alcohol and Other Drug Program (AOD) at Albion College consists of informing students of potential health, safety, and legal risks associated with the use and abuse of alcohol and illegal drugs. Drug and alcohol topics are covered in new student orientation, student groups such as Peer Educators and Greek Life, residence halls, as well as through Judicial Affairs and Counseling Services. Each of these activities provides opportunities for students to learn about the physical and psychological effects of alcohol and other drugs on the body and mind.

Alcohol and other drug education and prevention topics are covered from the time a student enters Albion College at new student orientation. All new First-Year students are required to attend programs geared to educate them to the risks of alcohol and other drug abuse. Students are notified of online access to the Student Handbook at that time and are informed of the College's alcohol and drug policies. Throughout the year, student organizations such as Peer Educators, offer opportunities to learn more about the effects of alcohol and other drugs with programs outside of the classroom.

Peer educators continue to sponsor activities during student events in order to provide participants with alternatives to drinking alcoholic beverages, using "beer goggles" to learn about the effects of alcohol on perception and physical coordination, using root beer or other non-alcoholic drinks to help students learn to calculate their blood alcohol levels in order to learn to drinking responsibly and cut down on binge drinking incidents, alcohol education jeopardy to learn factual information about substance abuse, and educational opportunities to combat myths and misinformation about substance use. Peer educator also sponsor “Safe Spring Break” outreach activities and offer alcohol education materials and information regarding physical and sexual health to their fellow students.

Greek Life has also contributed to the prevention of underage drinking on campus through training with Risk Managers and Social Chairs on party planning and programming about dating and alcohol, Greek Life organizations are required to present yearly programs to their members on substance abuse topics. Residential Life student staff (i.e., Resident Assistants) sponsor alcohol and/or other drug abuse prevention programs on campus in 2015-2016.

Counseling Services works in conjunction with Campus Safety and Judicial Affairs to provide mandated alcohol education to students who are found responsible for underage and/or irresponsible legal-age drinking on campus. These services include the use of Think About It: Drugs/Alcohol, an online course that provides education about the physical and psychological effects of alcohol on the body. Students are also given a comprehensive AOD assessment with our Substance Abuse Counselors and, if appropriate, referred to an 8-session substance abuse psychosocial group and/or individual counseling. When appropriate, family members may be included in the assessment and subsequent counseling. Counseling Services in conjunction with Student Health Services also provides random drug screening to students who have been mandated to substance abuse treatment. Students are also seen by our Substance Abuse Counselors in individual treatment when this seems to be a more appropriate option than group treatment. Referrals to appropriate community treatment resources (e.g. AA, NA, intensive IOP programs) are made on an as needed basis.

During 2015-2016, outreach activities were presented to members of the Greek Life community by the Counseling Services. Counselors also met with coaches and members of the Athletic Department and with athletic team members for outreach and educational AOD opportunities. During the 2016-17 academic year, Counseling Services and the Athletic Department will begin to administer 360 Proof, a NCAA sponsored alcohol awareness program for athletes. Counseling Services staff members will schedule regular times in the Dow Center to be available to meet with athletes who wish to discuss their relationship with alcohol and other drugs. They also met with members of the residential life staff to discuss toxic drinking and other issues of substance abuse commonly seen on college campuses. Counseling Services included information on substance abuse in associated programs presented to the campus community throughout the year (e.g. anxiety and stress management, safe relationships, depression, eating disorders etc.).

During the 2015-16 academic year, the Counseling Services continued to promote “The Red Watch Band Program” on campus. This program was started at Stonybrook University and is based on a harm reduction model for alcohol education. Toxic drinking is an epidemic on campuses all across America. It means consuming so much alcohol the drinker passes out. But while "sleeping it off," the victim may be quietly dying. The Red Watch Band Program is designed to end alcohol overdose deaths by teaching students how to handle alcohol emergencies and summon professional help. Students are trained in CPR, how to recognize the signs and symptoms of toxic drinking, and how to intervene and get help for an impaired student. The program continues to recruit students each semester. During 2015-16, 22 students completed the Red Watch Program training.

During the 2015-16 year, Counseling Services continued to offer a “Students in Recovery Support Group.” This group experience is available for all students: those struggling to maintain their sobriety, students with parents or relatives struggling with issues of substance abuse, and students struggling with other difficulties in need of additional support.

Mr. Gamel and Ms. Bode continue to expand the use of 711 Michigan Ave. as the Counseling Services Annex for AOD/Recover programming. All AOD meetings and most evaluations are taking place at 711 Michigan. More substance free programming continues to be developed and offered building the annex as a substance free setting for students.

All students, faculty, and staff receive the College’s policy on alcohol and drugs, as well as potential legal sanctions for the violation of this policy at the beginning of the fall semester. Students who begin taking classes winter semester receive this information when they arrive for orientation. A copy of the College’s policy on alcohol and drugs is provided in Appendix A. During the 2003 academic year, the Vice President of Student Affairs, through the assistance of Albion College Counseling Services, began implementation of the CORE survey, developed by the CORE Institute at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. This survey has allowed the College to measure current student trends of alcohol and drug use, and will allow the College an opportunity for comparison to determine the effectiveness of the alcohol and drug education and prevention program in the future.

Finally, the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Residential Life Staff and other students, faculty, and staff who are interested, attend conferences on an annual basis. Sessions at these conferences include programming about methods of preventing substance abuse and about peer education on the affects of alcohol and drugs with the ultimate goal of reducing alcohol and drug abuse as well as the tendency of students to drive while impaired.

Goals for Programming

The purpose of the alcohol and drug program is to educate students about the physical and psychological effects of alcohol and other drugs on them, as well as the impact that alcohol and other drug abuse and dependence can have on their current functioning, their academic success, and their futures. It is also meant to educate the Albion College community about the legal ramifications of the illegal use of alcohol and other drugs. College faculty, staff, and students who offer such programs hope that through programming efforts, Albion College students will make informed decisions when confronted with the possibility of using alcohol while underage, driving under the influence of alcohol, the possibility of using illicit drugs, or other situations involving illicit drugs or alcohol.

Recommendations for Programming

For the purposes of continuing programming at the College on alcohol and drug education, it is recommended that some events (e.g., “Safe Spring Break,” alcohol free Homecoming events, other alcohol free weekend events on campus) continue to be scheduled to create a tradition of moderation and responsible alcohol use. Additionally, it is recommended that the Peer Education program continue to be strengthened and developed. To this end, an on-campus internship with the Peer Educators was developed. Interested students have the opportunity to plan and present AOD outreach activities. Peer educators also present short educational programs for students in their residence halls offer to provide students with information necessary to make informed and responsible decisions about substance use and abuse. Programs geared to inform students about the effects of substance abuse on their academic and athletic performance are recommended. There is a growing body of research and information available highlighting the effects of alcohol on memory and retention of information, concentration, reaction time, endurance, etc. It is important that students learn that substance abuse may significantly impact their career here at Albion College. Finally, it is recommended that the Student Affairs Office continue the collection of alcohol and drug use data via the CORE survey, allowing the College to measure successes and failures on a more consistent basis. Future programming could be influenced by results from CORE surveys as well as the current needs of the student body. We will conduct another CORE survey during the 2017-18 academic year.

Strengths and Weaknesses

The Counseling Services has made considerable efforts during the 2015-2016 academic year to increase his visibility to various campus groups and organizations to better coordinate this programing. As was previously mentioned, Counseling Services and Student Health Services continue to work to further strengthen the Peer Education program by meeting with the peer educators to discuss substance abuse issues and approaches to outreach as well as the development of the Peer Educator Internship. More work is needed in this area in order to best utilize the efforts and resources of the peer educators. Research has shown that students are more responsive when programs are presented by their peers. While the Counseling Services has provided a professional program for the evaluation and treatment of substance abuse issues on campus, a system of measuring successes or failures has not yet been formalized.

A Certified Substance Abuse Specialist was hired and joined the Counseling Services staff in the fall of 2011. The responsibilities of this position include: an examination of the current AOD evaluation and treatment protocols, development of alternative treatment modalities (e.g. psychoeducational groups), development, coordination, and implementation of campus wide AOD outreach efforts for example, with Greek Life and the Athletic Department, and better utilize campus groups such as Peer Educators in order to involve the student body in prevention efforts. The Certified Substance Abuse Specialist continues to review the current evaluation and treatment protocol and make recommendations for changes in the protocol

The strengths of the current program include the enforcement aspect of the alcohol and drug policies for the campus. Students are deterred from using alcohol and other drugs on campus due to the disciplinary actions that result from their use. These actions include sanctions such as a fines, mandated treatment, social probation, and suspension. In addition, students have an opportunity for further education about the effects of drug and alcohol. Once students are found responsible for a violation, they are asked to take the Think About It: Drugs/Alcohol judicial course and to see the Counseling Services Certified Substance Abuse Specialist for further evaluation and education and/treatment. Furthermore, the policy of parental notification offers the College an opportunity to call on parents to assist in potential alcohol and drug abuse intervention with the student, creating a team approach to helping students to focus on their educational goals. See Appendix C for the judicial system statistics. During the first year students are on campus, College staff emphasize that students are expected to abide by local, state and federal laws and College policy. Throughout the duration of students' tenure at the College this message is repeatedly given so that this ethos persists and the community environment continues to improve. Finally, the small campus allows students to have easy access to faculty, staff, and administration, and vice versa. This interaction permits faculty and staff to identify on a more informal basis, signs and symptoms of alcohol and drug use and abuse, making intervention more accessible.

Sanction Enforcement Consistency

All students, when suspected of breaking the alcohol and/or other drug use policies, must attend a judicial or administrative hearing which determines first, whether or not the student is responsible for violating College policies, and second, the sanctions that will be imposed on the student if he/she is found responsible for violating College policy. Student sanctions are outlined in the Student Handbook and can be found in Appendix A.

Procedures for Distribution of the AOD Policy to Students and Employees

The alcohol and drug policies are outlined in the Student Handbook as well as the faculty and staff handbooks. Students, faculty, and staff have online access to the Student Handbook. Staff have access to the employee manual through Human Resources and Division heads. Faculty receive handbooks at the start of their employment and receive a revised version at the start of every academic year. Albion College Policies

Alcohol Policy

Albion College does not consider the use of alcoholic beverages as necessary or conducive to the processes of higher education. Albion College students are expected to abide by College policies, and the laws of the State of Michigan and the City of Albion relative to the possession, consumption and serving of alcohol.

1. Only students 21 years of age or older may possess and/or consume alcoholic beverages. Students under 21 years of age are prohibited from possessing and/or consuming alcoholic beverages.

1A. Because it can reasonably be assumed that first-year students living in the Wesley residence halls are not 21 years of age, alcohol will not be permitted in the first-year living areas of Wesley Hall.

2. Provision of alcohol to persons under 21 years of age is prohibited.

3. Provision of distilled spirits (i.e., hard liquor) to anyone is prohibited.

4. Possession, consumption, and/or provision of alcohol in public areas of the campus is not permitted. Public areas are defined as those areas of the campus that are readily accessible to students, faculty, staff, and guests. Such areas include: all outside areas, athletic fields, lobbies, classrooms, lounges, building corridors, and offices.

5. Students (whether of legal drinking age or not) and/or their guests are not permitted to have kegs, party balls, or other common sources of alcohol, tapped or untapped, on campus. A common source of alcohol is also defined as more alcohol than can be responsibly consumed by the occupants of a room.

6. College funds (including student activity fees and board fees) may not be used, directly or indirectly, to purchase alcoholic beverages.

7. No reference, direct or indirect, to alcohol may appear or be used in notices or postings (including sheet signs) which promote or advertise an event.

8. Students need to adhere to fraternity and sorority Social Functions and Risk Management guidelines and procedures as presented in the Statement of Relationship Between Albion College and Fraternity and Sorority Chapters. Copies are available in the Office of Campus Programs and Organizations.

9. Any alcohol consumed at an off-campus event sponsored by a student organization must be provided by a reputable third-party vendor with a permanent liquor license and liability insurance. The third-party vendor, not students, must verify the legal drinking age of anyone consuming alcohol at such events. The student organization must provide transportation to and from off-campus events where alcohol will be consumed.

10. Students under 21 years of age are not allowed to store empty alcoholic beverage containers.

11. Situations involving inappropriate or illegal possession, consumption, or serving of alcohol will lead to the confiscation and/or disposal of the alcoholic beverages present.

12. Use of alcohol which jeopardizes or endangers the welfare of oneself or others, or contributes to other irresponsible or offensive action or behavior, is a violation of College regulations.

13. All students and groups are subject to disciplinary action for violation of Albion College policy pertaining to the possession, consumption, or serving of alcohol. In addition to other sanctions which may be applied, any individual or group found responsible for violation of these policies may be fined. For example, a minimum $150.00 fine (beer, wine) and $250.00 fine (distilled spirits) may result from underage alcohol possession and/or consumption; a minimum $500.00 fine may result from providing alcohol to minors.

Persons who have concerns or questions about their personal relationship to alcohol, or the use/abuse of alcohol by their friends or family members, should contact Counseling Services other members of the Student Affairs staff for information and assistance.

Drugs in the Workplace (See Employee Services Manual.)

This policy covers all Albion College faculty and staff members. References to controlled substances and drugs include alcoholic beverages under the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988.

4. As a condition of employment at Albion College, employees must abide by the terms of this policy. The College shall have the right to discharge employees convicted of violating any criminal drug statute which occurred while in the workplace.

Illegal Use of Drugs

Albion College does not condone the illegal possession, use, provision, or sale of drugs. Drugs are defined as including alcohol, marijuana, hashish, barbiturates, amphetamines, prescription tranquilizers, LSD compounds, mescaline, psilocybin, DMT, narcotics, opiates, and other compounds, which are illegal except when taken under a doctor's prescription.

It is recognized that students who have used or are using marijuana or other drugs may need and wish to seek counseling. College counselors and Student Affairs staff members are available for such assistance. Conferences with these people are privileged, subject to the standards of privacy established by laws of the State of Michigan (Act 236 of 1961, sec. 2165).

Given these considerations and other dangers inherent in the use and abuse of drugs, the following regulations shall be enforced and are applicable regardless of the status of violations in the courts:

1. The merchandising of drugs including marijuana will result in expulsion.
2. Involvement in the illegal possession, use, sharing or distribution of drugs, or misconduct resulting there from, is an offense that is subject to sanctions up to and including expulsion.
3. Sanctions for possession, use, sharing or distribution of marijuana and other drugs, or misconduct resulting there from, may result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion.

Federal Regulations

The applicable federal penalties and sanctions for illegal possession of a controlled substance are given on chart B, Appendix C.

College Disciplinary Sanctions

Violations of College policies or local, state, or federal laws prohibiting the unlawful possession, use, distribution, manufacture, or dispensing of alcohol and illicit drugs by students and employees will be subject to disciplinary action or sanctions in accordance with the procedures set out in the Student Handbook, the Employee Services Manual, the Faculty Handbook, or the applicable Labor Agreement. This handbook contains a detailed discussion of the Albion College Judicial Process which pertains to students. Sanctions for student misconduct include suspension or expulsion from the College.

The College also reserves the right to refer to appropriate authorities any situation that comes to its attention relative to the unlawful possession, use, distribution, manufacture, or dispensing of alcohol and illicit drugs. Enforcement of College policies does not preclude criminal prosecution by local, state, or federal authorities. It is possible a disciplinary sanction may include the completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program.

Health Risks

The abuse of alcohol and the use of illicit drugs may result in serious health consequences. It is clear that the use of alcohol and other drugs can be detrimental to the health of the user. Further, the use of alcohol and drugs is not conducive to an academic atmosphere. Drugs, including alcohol, impede the learning process and can cause disruption for other students and disturb their academic interests. The use of drugs in the workplace may also impede the employee's ability to perform in a safe and effective manner, and may result in injuries to others. Early diagnosis and treatment of alcohol and drug abuse is in the best interests of the student, employee and the College. See chart C, (Appendix C) for a description of the health risks associated with specific drugs.

Health Risks Related to Alcohol

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described. Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life-threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver. Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Counseling and Treatment Programs for Alcohol and Drug Abuse

Services Provided by Albion College

Information and help can be obtained from the Student Affairs staff, including Counseling Services, or the Human Resources Office. Confidential alcohol and other drug counseling is available to students through Counseling Services at no cost to the student. Counseling is done on an individual and group basis.

Counseling Services (ext. 0236) and the Human Resources Office (ext.0205) maintain lists of in-patient and out-patient referral resources available in the community and make appropriate referrals for students through Counseling Services and for staff and faculty through the Human Resources Office.

Community Resources

Students and employees may seek assistance from off-campus resources. Employees should refer to their Insurance Summary Booklet or the Human Resources Office to find which services are covered by their insurance plan. The following is a partial list of some programs available for counseling, treatment, and rehabilitation of substance abuse difficulties. It may also be helpful to explore/contact psychotherapists who are certified substance abuse specialists in private practice for outpatient treatment.
