

Albion College

The Department of Economics and Management E&M Majors

In economics and management you will study decision making and policy making in the context of a world constrained by scarcity. We aim to help our students understand how decisions are linked to incentives and how policies can help align individual incentives with social objectives.

ALUMNI HIGHLIGHT

Paxton Mueller, '15, majored in both economics and management and mathematics, which gave her the knowledge of statistics, economic modeling, and business needed for a career in data analytics—a hot and rapidly growing field. While an undergraduate, she had an internship with Ernst & Young in Detroit. Paxton now works for Ernst & Young as an analyst in Advisory Services. “Albion gave me the education in mathematics and economics that helped me to develop strong problem-solving skills, and I learned to work effectively under pressure. Albion also challenged me to take courses to fulfill the liberal arts requirements. These courses strengthened my performance in areas outside of my comfort zone and helped to enhance my writing and professional communication skills.”

STUDENT HIGHLIGHT

Danielle Nelson, '17, is pursuing majors in both economics and management and public policy as well as a minor in French. She is a member of the Gerald R. Ford Institute for Leadership in Public Policy and Service. Her economics classes help deepen her studies in public policy. Danielle completed an internship with Albion's city manager this past semester where she developed new policies, worked on economic development programs and strategies, and planned a series of community forums. An E&M Department tutor, Danielle also mentors first-year students, helping them discover the path that's best for them. She especially values the relationships she has developed with so many of her professors.

STUDENT VENTURES

Omicron Delta Epsilon

This honorary organization recognizes scholastic attainment and outstanding achievements in economics.

Fed Challenge

The Fed Challenge is a competition in macroeconomic policy sponsored by the Federal Reserve Bank system. Teams of undergraduates from many schools each deliver a 20-minute presentation analyzing the economy and financial markets and making a monetary policy recommendation. Then, each team defends its presentation during 15 minutes of questioning by the economics professors who serve as judges.
